ANNY EXCUSE FOR A PARTY!

Ibiza's Lounge Next Door first anniversary soiree started early—Happy Hour, anyone?—and lasted 'til the wee hours. The Midtown restaurant's owners Charles Clark and Grant Cooper greeted all arriving guests inside the hip, dimly lit—and always packed—space, and offered party-goers snacks like bite-sized Spanish tortillas with saffron aioli, tuna tartare on English cucumbers, and bread pudding popsicles with Jamaican dark rum caramel sauce from Ibiza's kitchen, ahem, next door. Wine was generously poured, along with the Lounge's hot-weather favorite, Tahitian mojitos, made with vanilla bean rum. DJ Mike C kept the energy level high with a collection of old and new party tunes that had some of H-Town's top foodies shakin' their tail feathers. —ELIZABETH REID
